me to go to a sale with him tomorrow morning between Tunkhannock and Wyalusing so I - guess I will not miss it. Take my book Red Rust along so I will have good company.

Cora cleaned the down stairs hall yesterday while I cleaned the silver ware and the buffet cupboard and china closet - so this morning while she washes the woodwork I will do some ironing, guess I will never be able to do any sewing.

Edith came home yesterday morning after being away since Saturday noon. spoils as usual pop says you can't spoil anything already spoils.

The pups are quite lively ~~so~~ the bread man wants one
